

Venus • 7 • Libra

Pallas Athena

The Principle of Partnership Archetype: The Diplomat/Animus

Although the planet Venus is feminine, the sign Libra is masculine, air. She is no longer an innocent girl and young mother; she is now the higher octave of feminine power - MILF. She can have sex for fun, like a man, though she may choose not to - Libra is an erudite metrosexual. She has class.

The famous indecisiveness of Libra is misunderstood. She is not questioning the object of her desire, she is figuring out the strategy needed to broker a peace. The 7th house (the house of "other") is angular and cardinal (that means they start things), and elemental air (air is masculine, thought, logos). Its natural sign ruler is Libra (the Scales) and its natural planetary ruler is Venus and the asteroid,

Pallas Athena. Athena denied her mother. She was born from Zeus' head after he swallowed her pregnant mother to cover up his cheating. The daughter never saw her mother so was born in full armor, never suckled, with wisdom (the owl) as her guide. She's not so touchy, feelie, earthy as Venus, although she can be coaxed when inhabiting the earthy/watery signs.

The cusp of the seventh house is a special angle called the Descendant (DSC). It represents the partners in your life, vanity, diplomats, tennis, art and beauty. Pallas Athena is a jet setter; an elegant entertainer. She knows exactly who to invite for a lively mix at her party. Libra is age forty to sixty. She has mad social skills.

LIBRAN KEYWORDS: companionship, the alter ego, partnerships, one-to-one relationships, marriage, the first marriage, the "significant other", business partnerships, competitors, our "shadow self", lawyers, mediators, counselors, contracts and open enemies.

